

2024-25 Graduate Student Awards

Graduate students affiliated with the Centre for Research in Occupational Safety and Health could be eligible for the following awards.

Note:

- Please USE Google form Appendix A to submit application(s) (<https://forms.gle/q17BLozLrbNSW7B28>)
- Please USD Google Form Appendix B for Referee Forms (<https://forms.gle/ErkszVvcGNBKirDy5>)

Applications must be received by October 30th, 2024

- A listing of currently held awards and their value must be included in your application

All Awardees are required to attend the Day of Mourning on April 28th, 2025.

Please, read the criteria of each award, as some will require more documentation than others*

Awards will not be issued if funds become unavailable or if no eligible applicants apply*

1. UA Local 800 Graduate Fellowship
Value	1 @ $5,000.00
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full-time or part-time Laurentian University student enrolled in a graduate program whose research is focused on occupational health and safety • Preference is given to children of members • Student member of CROSH
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her master's research highlighting the relevance to OHS. • Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

2. United Steel Workers Graduate Scholarship
Value	1 @ $1,000.00
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full Time Labour Studies Students with CROSH membership. • If no student matches the following criteria, the award can go to either a CROSH member or a Labour Studies student at Laurentian University. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Registered in their 1st or 2nd year of a masters program ○ Registered in their 1st, 2nd, 3rd or 4th year of a doctoral program • Preference is given to children of members
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript • Minimal admission average of 75% (copy of academic transcript required to support) • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her graduate thesis, including a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to occupational health and safety. • Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

3. William Shaver Masters Scholarship in Mining Health and Safety

3. William Shaver Masters Scholarship in Mining Health and Safety
Value	1 @ $5,000.00 (may be renewed for up to one year (application required); for a maximum value of $10,000)
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Resident of Canada or Visa student • Full-time Laurentian University student registered in either the first or second year of a master’s program whose research is focused on occupational health and safety in a mining context • Student member of CROSH
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript • Minimal admission average of 75% (copy of academic transcript required to support) • Proposed master thesis is focused on a health and safety topic relevant and deemed beneficial to the mining industry as well as having knowledge transfer opportunity. • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her masters research. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to the mining industry • Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

4. William Shaver Doctoral Scholarship in Mining Health and Safety

Value	1 @ $5,000.00 (may be renewed for up to three years (application required); for a maximum value of $20,000)
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Resident of Canada or Visa student• Full-time Laurentian University student registered in either the first or second year of a doctoral program whose research is focused on occupational health and safety in a mining context• Student member of CROSH
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B)• The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript• Minimal admission average of 75% (copy of academic transcript required to support)• Proposed doctoral thesis is focused on a health and safety topic relevant and deemed beneficial to the mining industry, as well as having knowledge transfer opportunity• The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her doctoral research. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to the mining industry• Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

5. Dr. Fergal Nolan Radiation Safety Institute of Canada Graduate Award
Value	1 @ $3,600.00 (may be renewed for one year (application required))
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024 Awardee must be able to attend award ceremony in Toronto – date to be determined (travel expenses covered to and from award ceremony)
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Resident of Canada or Visa student • Full-time or Part-time Laurentian University student registered in a graduate program • Student member of CROSH, MIRARCO or The Bharti School of Engineering
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript • Proposed thesis in on an occupational health and safety topic; preference will be given to research regarding radiation safety • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her graduate thesis. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to occupational health and safety and radiation safety specifically, if applicable.

6. Acclaim Ability Management Graduate Fellowships
Value	1 @ $850.00
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full-time or part-time student enrolled in a graduate program at Laurentian University whose research is focused on occupational health and safety and who is a student member of the Centre for Research in Occupational Safety and Health (CROSH).
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vitae and transcript • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her research. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to Occupational Health and Wellness

7. CROSH Scholarship
Value	6 @ $3,000.00
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full-time Laurentian University student enrolled in a graduate program whose research is, focused on Occupational Health and Wellness. • Student member of CROSH or applicant
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vita and transcript • Minimal admission average of 75% (copy of academic transcript required to support) • Proposed thesis is focused on Occupational Health and Wellness • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her research. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to Occupational Health and Wellness • Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

8. CROSH Entrance Scholarship
Value	3 @ $3,000.00
Application Due	October 30, 2024
Award Date:	November 30, 2024
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full-time Laurentian University student entering their first year in a graduate program whose research is, focused on Occupational Health and Wellness. • Student member of CROSH or applicant
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (2) Faculty references (use reference form found in Appendix B) • The student must submit a current curriculum vita and transcript • Minimal admission average of 75% (copy of academic transcript required to support) • Proposed thesis is focused on Occupational Health and Wellness • The student must submit a written application (no more than 500 words) indicating the proposed topic area of his/her research. The written application must also include a justification for why his/her proposed topic is relevant to Occupational Health and Wellness • Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

2023-24 Undergraduate Student Awards

Undergraduate students affiliated with the Centre for Research in Occupational Safety and Health could be eligible for the following awards.

Leo Gerard Workplace Undergraduate Scholarship
Value	1 @ $1,500
Application Due	Application NOT required
Award Date:	April 2025
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any CROSH member registered in an undergraduate program at Laurentian University.
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Participation with CROSH as an undergraduate student OHS community activity/service Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.

USW 4th year Undergraduate Award
Value	1 @ $1000
Application Due	Application NOT required
Award Date:	April 2025
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any CROSH member registered in the 4th year undergraduate program at Laurentian University.
Criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Participation with CROSH as an undergraduate student OHS community activity/service Consideration will be given to students who have regularly participated in CROSH-organized events.